

Midterm Review DPP Brazil

www.unique-landuse.de

The lack of economic incentives for sustainable management of forest resources has led to deforestation and land degradation in the Amazon region. The Development Partnership (DPP) between GIZ, Symrise Aromas e Fragancia Ltda. and Industria e Comercio de Cosméticos Natura Ltda aims for sustainable use and recovery of rainforest resources in three Amazonian regions by strengthening existing and developing new supply chains of native species' products, such as fruits, nuts, oil and essences. The objective of this assignment was a mid-term review evaluation of this DPP project according to criteria of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) and Capacity WORKS success factors.

Country

Brazil

Duration

06/2019 - 08/2019

Client

Deutsche Gesellschaft für
Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ)

Our contribution

- Evaluation of the project based on OECD criteria
- Assessment of Capacity WORKS success factors
- Interviews of development partners, cooperatives and private company stakeholders
- Workshop for feedback and learning processes
- Elaboration of recommendations for a potential re-steering of the project