

South South Cooperation for Soil Restoration

www.unique-landuse.de

Land degradation across the global South is a major contributor to the loss of carbon sinks and a drag on the growth of rural livelihoods. Increasing soil organic carbon in agricultural landscapes is an important means of reversing this trend. UNIQUE has invested into KOFAR, a Kenyan company that produces and sells organic fertilizer. CCAFS hired UNIQUE to conduct South-South cooperation activities in order to share lessons from Kenya in Paraguay, Morocco, India, and elsewhere. UNIQUE hosted two webinars to facilitate South-South cooperation on the use of organic fertilizer.

Country

Kenya

Duration

11/2019 - 02/2020

Client

Climate Change,
Agriculture and Food
Security (CCAFS)

Our contribution

- Collect data on effectiveness of organic fertilizer.
- Prepare communication materials relating to business models for distribution.
- Interviews with other actors using organic fertilizer.
- Host two webinars to communicate lessons learned broadly.